on Correct English Usage In Speech and Writing

Introduction :-

The Department of English, Krantisinh Nana Patil College, Walwa decided to organize the Value Added Course on Correct English Usage in Both Speech and Writing for B.A.III English students to enhance themselves in correct written and spoken English communication in the sphere of globalization. So we thought that it was necessary to train students in English conversation on the basis of standard English pronunciation so that students would perceive 24 consonants , 20 vowels and 12 diphthongs in relation to IPA symbols and essential rules of correct English writing through various types of grammar exercises. This course also aimed to explain the difference between general Indian English Pronunciation and R. P. which would help students to acquire the principles of basic sentence structure in comparison with mother tongue i.e. Marathi .
